Dear Hiring Manager,

Thank you for your precious time reviewing my application!

My name is Xiang Li. I am a graduate student at Lehigh University studying Financial Mathematics. I also hold a bachelor's degree in software engineering from Shanghai Jiao Tong University. I am looking for a full-time position related to quantitative analyst/developer, data scientist or risk management.

I have industry experience in investment banks, trading firms and Fintech startups in the U.S and China. I have also worked on some academic research and projects in finance and risk field. You are highly welcomed to visit my GitHub profile (<https://github.com/LiXiang618>) to see some projects and academic research I have done before.

Thank you for your time and I look forward to learning more about this opportunity! Feel free to call me at (669) 271-5090 whenever you are convenient.

Yours faithfully,

Xiang Li
